

 Gary Cunningham-Lee - Mon 04 of Aug, 2008 01:41 GMT-0000 - (19187 Reads)

The Tikipedia theme — for a TikiWiki with a Wikipedia look — has been updated for the latest version of Tiki. New features include the options of a right-side column and top menu, and configuration of site logo through the Look & Feel admin panel. All other new features of Tiki 2 are supported.

The new version uses the *litecss layout method, so no tables are used in the main layout.

Because of possible file changes as Tiki 2 nears official release, the Tikipedia theme files for Tiki 2 should be downloaded directly from the Subversion repository: ↗.

Please report any problems in the forums here.